Re: Technical Conference Details for the Six-Month Model Input Status Report for the Hydrologic and Hydraulic (H&H) Modeling Study associated with the Pensacola Project

Dear Stakeholder,

As directed in the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) Order dated January 23, 2020, the Grand River Dam Authority (GRDA) is required to hold a technical conference call for relicensing participants to ask questions regarding the six-month model input status report for the Hydrologic and Hydraulic (H&H) modeling study for the Pensacola Project relicensing process. The Order states that GRDA is to distribute the six-month model input status report no later than March 30, 2021 and hold the associated technical conference call no more than one month thereafter. The agenda is enclosed and the details for the technical conference call are below:

April 21, 2021
